

First half of april

Due to the start of the pandemic and the difficulties of working face to face with the people we were working with, we had to change our approach on the project, we decided to focus more on the teacher side rather than the student one, since we lost all contact with the students, and we still had the communication with the teacher